

2007-12-19

Dear Learners and Practitioners:

Thank you so much for your amazing submissions about Possibility. Your writing will undoubtedly make my first Write On! a memorable, fun newsletter for everyone to enjoy.

The next issue of Write On! will be published in April 2008. The theme is New Beginnings.

Spring is a perfect time to think about new beginnings. After the snow melts and the grass appears, nature has its own cycle of new beginnings that awaken and revive us after the winter months. Life offers new beginnings all the time: a move, the birth of a baby, beginning a class, starting a hobby, reading a book are some examples of new beginnings. Sometimes endings – like death, the end of a relationship or releasing a habit that no longer works for us – can launch new beginnings.

I welcome submissions from learners and practitioners about New Beginnings. Submissions deadline is Friday, March 14, 2008. Please email your writing in Word format to: communications@mb.literacy.ca. If you have photos that would support your piece, please include them in jpeg format. Don't forget to fax the release form to the LPM office at: 956-9315.

Submissions Checklist
Write On!
<input type="checkbox"/>	Writing about New Beginnings in Word format
<input type="checkbox"/>	Release form (fax to 956-9315)
<input type="checkbox"/>	Photos (if available) emailed in jpeg format

Questions? Please contact me at: communications@mb.literacy.ca or at 954-3854 on Wednesday mornings from 9am till noon.

Thanks in advance for your contribution!

Regards,

Andrea Bodie, Communications Coordinator